Specifications

All unique door panels comprise of the following components:

- All door panels are manufactured using PVCU skins that are covered by a full ten year discolouration guarantee.
- A double glazed unit using 4mm toughened safety glass for safety and security.
- For extra security we also offer the option of a plywood security sheet.
- Glue chipping-the use of glue chipping has been used extensively in this brochure, which is of unconformed pattern and therefore no two pieces of glass will be the same.
- All the bevels used in this brochure are all glass cut bevels. Small inclusions may be found in some bevels. These should not be regarded as a fault.
- All panels are leaded with antique lead to reduce the effects of oxidation as lead is a natural product and so may weather with age and time.
- Some of the coloured film used is marble and grain effect and so making each design unique as of the random pattern of the film.
- All sandblast shown in the brochure is sandblasted leaving the design clear.
- All photographs shown have been taken on a stippolyte background.
- All our designs are handmade and therefore may vary slightly from the photographs shown.
- All woodgrain panels are extremely heat absorbent and therefore unsuitable for sunny or south facing locations.
- All panels are available in a range of Whites, Rosewood, Mahogany and Golden Oak

All Unique door panels are covered with a comprehensive guarantee.

The bevel and lead design is made up of individual pieces of glass and is encapsulated within 2 pieces of clear toughened glass and is predominantly obscure. Therefore it is not possible to change either the backing glass or design. As with all toughened glass some small imperfections may occur but this will only add to the uniqueness and should not be considered a defect.

All triple glazed panels are reinforced as standard.
